This has really been a quarter of going outside the comfort zone! This quarter I have personally been figuring out how I want my manga to look by testing screentones. A beetle used to working with short humor autobios jumped into a longer story format starring her OCs, and even the President of CAC has completed a project for her own comic by printing/arranging/stapling the books all in one month. DIY Queen!
The quartered creepy crawly is very proud of all of y'all, and, as always, keep up the amazing work; I'm rooting for you!

BY CRIMSONEYEDKEEPER

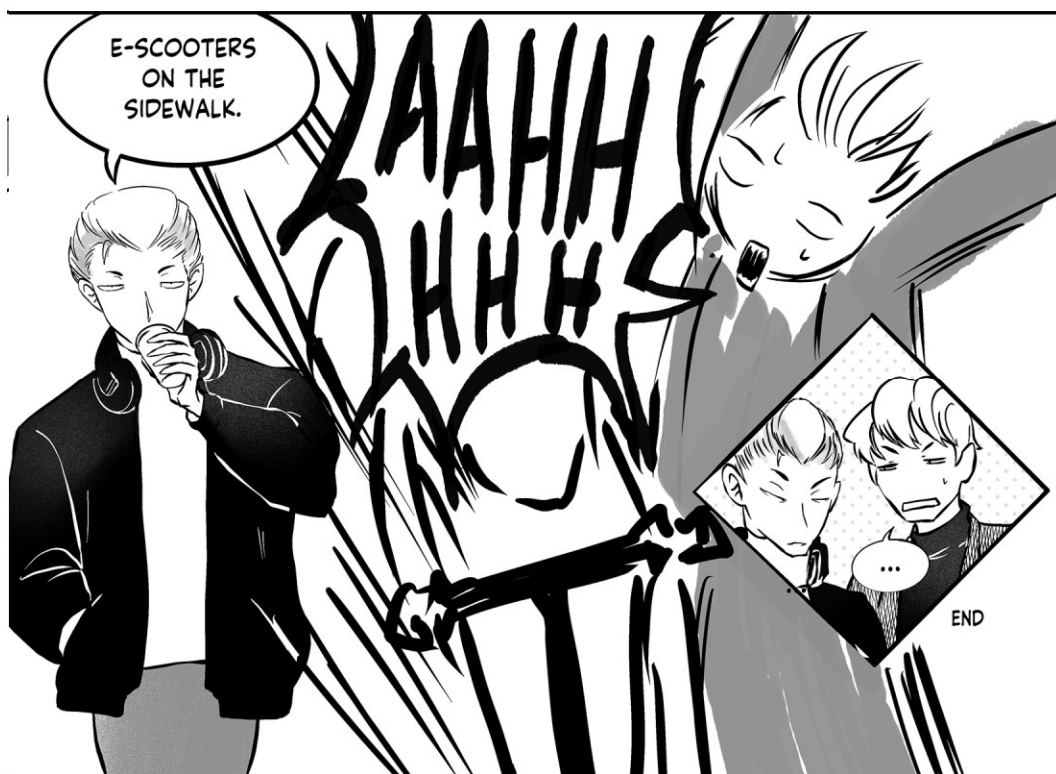

Though "suns"
and "flowers"
are just fables
for larvae. In the cave, no such things exist...

The gods
told our prince to
abandon us,
to go to the
overworld
of the sun
and flowers...

Thou thinketh I
hath hatched
yestereve...

He knows the visions
he has seen, and
knows he must leave...

Our prince who weeps from one eye a crystal tear, and a
marble tear from the other. Gods save him!
